

Deliver Better Plans While Building Your Bottom Line

PureFacts' decumulation technology revolutionizes the way advisors help their clients plan for retirement income. The technology is a leading-edge, cloud-based tool that integrates into enterprise platforms.

As baby-boomers retire in great numbers, financial services firms with the best decumulation tools will be more able to grow their businesses by encouraging investors to consolidate their accounts.

The PureFacts decumulation technology has a unique algorithm that quickly and efficiently identifies the retirement income strategy with the potential to save your clients the most money. It is intuitively designed and easy to use, accounts for all sources of retirement income, is always current with the Canadian tax code and simplifies the complex task of income planning.
